

Watcom's University Database Sample.db

Fields comprising the primary key are in bold.

The arrows connect foreign keys to the linked table.

In these tables, fields with the same name always indicate matching foreign and primary key fields, but that is often not the case and is certainly not a requirement.